

Case Competition Submission Details

The case competition write up can be found on github. Use the link or search for “ATT-big-data-becca”. There you will find a repository named, “Big-Data-Fall-Case-Competition”. Click on that repository link and you will find the uploaded competition write-up under the Code tab.

For project submissions, please upload your project on github and add me as a contributor (@ATT-big-data-becca) along with your team members. That way I will be able to download and review your project results. It’s okay if not everyone has a github account, as long as one person in the group does.

If no one on your team has a github account, that is okay! It’s free and easy to set up. Go ahead and create one account to upload the signed document and your project results. Make sure to include all team member names in the documents.

Don’t forget: Please make sure your entire team signs the disclaimer included with the case competition. I will not be able to review any submissions without those completed forms.
